Harry Ainlay Composite High School

TITAN TRADITION

AGE OF THE TITANS:

2000/2001

At the dawning of a new millenium as we look back into the past year and see how far we came and to dream how far we can go. Now we remember the good times, the bad and the intriguing. The things that we do and the friends that we make become memories that last a lifetime. Attaining excellence is an Ainlay tradition and through student's achievement it has truly been an Age of Titans.

In Omnibus Excelsior

Our Harry Ainlay motto - In Omnibus Excelsior - In All Things Excellence. Harry Ainlay Titans have proven themselves worthy of such a motto. With high goals and prominent dreams, Ainlay students excel in all areas: sports, arts, drama, music, leadership, and of course, academics. Numerous medals and awards are given to our Ainlay Titans throughout the year, acknowledging the outstanding creativity, leadership, and excellence of our classmates. No matter where we are, as Harry Ainlay Titans, we will always leave an excellent impression because the Harry Ainlay motto is always on our mind: In All Things Excellence - In Omnibus Excelesior.

In All Things Excellence

Titan Pride

Ainlay's achievements, as champions in any and every area, make it easy for our students to proudly call themselves Titans. We make our presence known and felt whether in school, or in everyday community activities and events. Excelling beyond all expectations, Ainlay Titans have established a reputation that is recognized and respected by all others. Respect, responsibility, honesty, forgiveness, fairness and integrity --the prime virtues which define Titans. We continue to strive towards the goal of further defining our character.

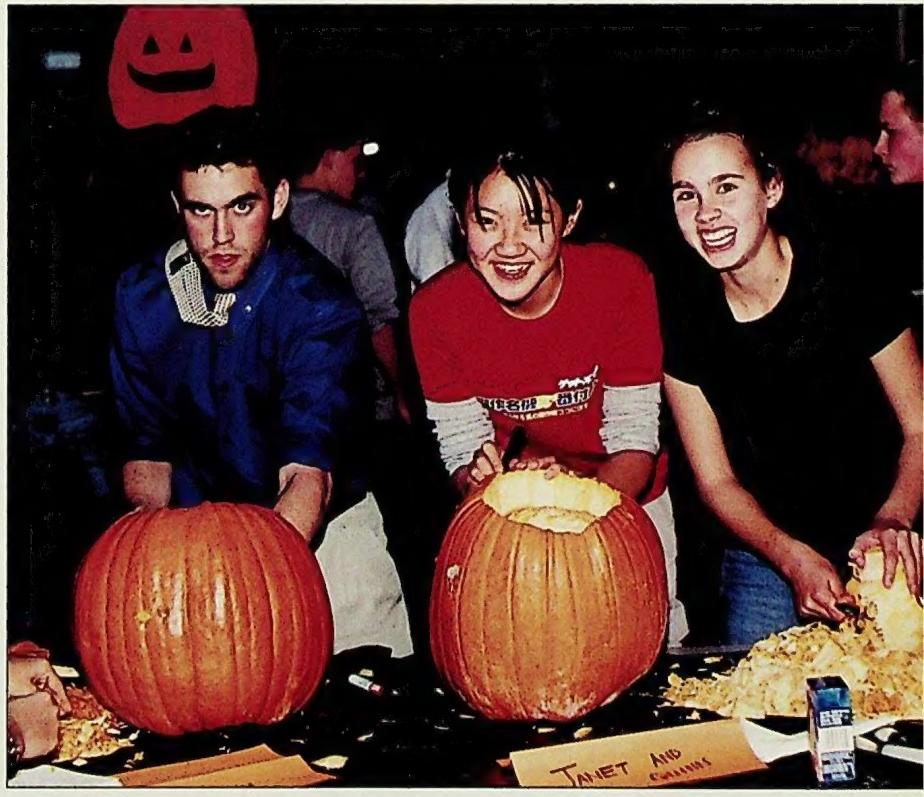

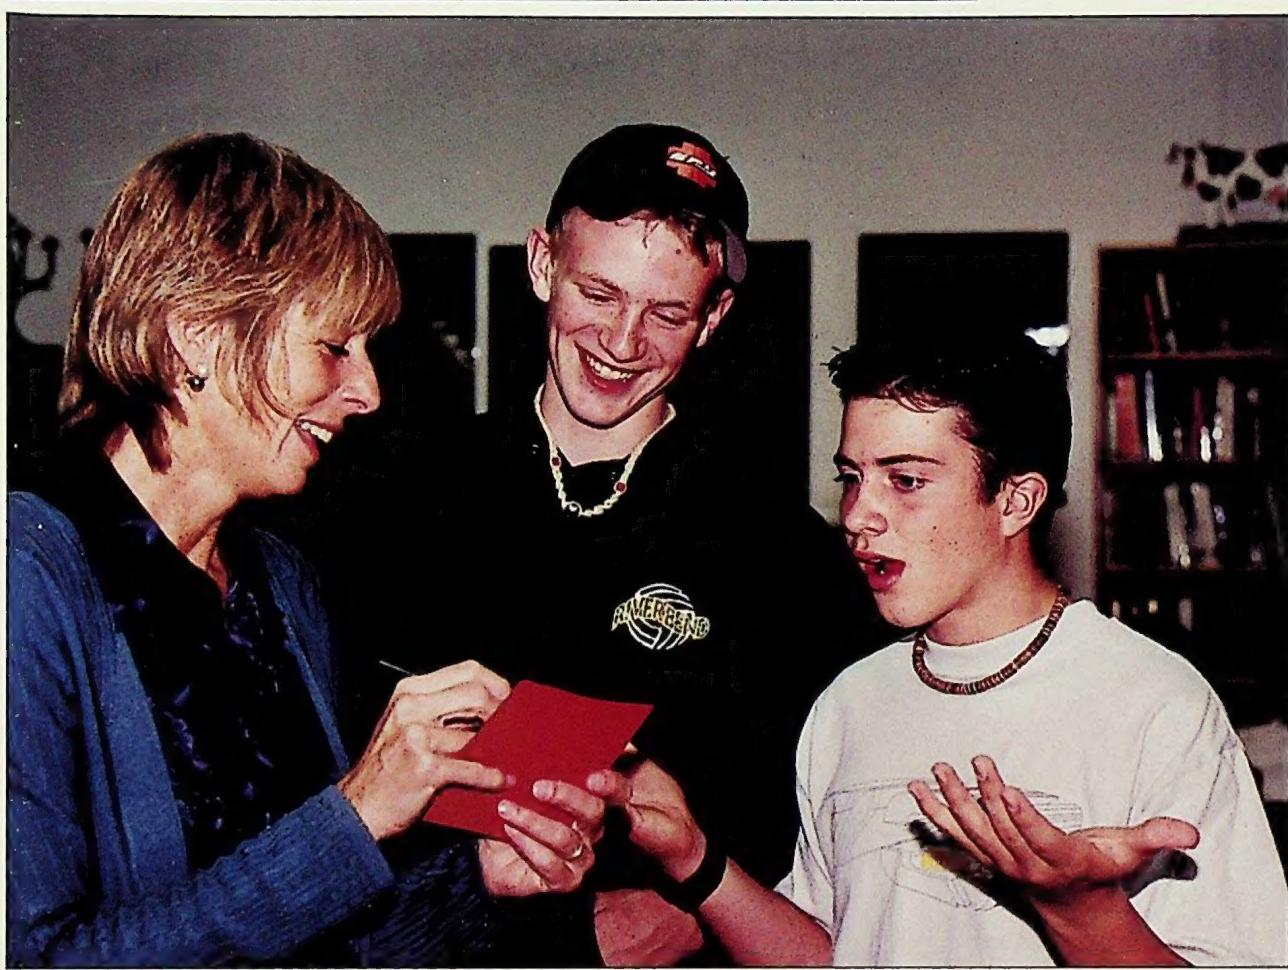

Ainlay Titans are well known for their fun, perhaps outrageous attitude towards life. In order to relax during a hard day, stress tends to be released in rather interesting, and often amusing ways. But not only do we find students using rather bizarre methods to express and reveal different facets of their characters, teachers are often found goofing off and having their own types of fun (setting great examples for us students to follow). But it's good to know that really, the authority figures in our lives aren't all that different, and need a good laugh as much as we do once in a while.

Caught in the Act

Work Hard

Play Hard

That English essay, that Social Studies position paper, those Chemistry questions, or that French test, aughhh! So much to do, so little time. It doesn't take long before it just becomes overwhelming. It seems to be all work and no play, but don't fret--Titans always find time to have social lives. Whether hanging out with friends, chilling at home, or just having fun with all those students union activites, you'll never find a Titan who doesn't know how to PLAY HARD!!

Timeless Friendships

Friends, they are there for the ups, the downs, and the in-betweens. True friends stick by you no matter what happens. At Ainlay, the yesterdays, todays, and tomorrows hold the hopes and dreams of friendships--true friendships will always stand the test of time.

Forever Titans

Time doesn't change the value of friendships, or the fond memories and school spirit all Titans develop over their years in Ainlay. Whether past, present or future Titans, we all have a sense of identity with the school, and a special bond developed through perseverance and accomplishment with our friends and classmates--these ties established with Ainlay can never be broken. Despite how bad or miserable some days may seem, we can all look back to our Ainlay days and view them as one of the best times of our lives.

Principal's Message

The Age of the Titans – a very appropriate yearbook theme to reflect the many achievements, successes, insights, friendships, dreams and fond memories we have created over the past year at Harry Ainlay.

As Titans, we stand tall in stature and character ever mindful of our responsibility to be the best we can be, to treat everyone with respect and dignity, and to represent ourselves and our school with pride. This yearbook captures the many unique aspects of life at Harry Ainlay School and the qualities that have created the Titan tradition of excellence in academics, fine arts, CTS, athletics, and character education.

A quality education is the basis for all of our successes. I urge each of you, those departing Harry Ainlay and those returning in the fall, to seize the opportunities before you. Each of you is the architect of your own success. The extent to which you capitalize upon the opportunities available to you is determined by the deliberate decisions you make everyday.

As you look over the pages of the 2000-01 yearbook, think about what it means to be a Titan and rise to the challenge of excellence in all that you do.

Sincerely,

Mr. Kunst, Principal

Career and Technology Studies

CTS program continues to offer a wide variety of courses .....

Student surveys show that Ainlay students are pleased with the wide variety of course offerings available to them. Career and Technology Studies offers many complimentary courses. Students can select from thirteen program strands and choose to follow one area for a three-year program or gain a more general knowledge by choosing a variety of courses. Courses include:

- Automotive Technology
- Communication Technology
- Construction Technology
- Cosmetology
- Design Studies
- Enterprise and Innovation
- Fabrication Studies
- Fashion Studies
- Financial Management
- Foods
- Information Processing
- Legal Studies
- Management and Marketing

Courses are designed to be activity-centered allowing the students to combine theory with practise. Research validates that this 'hands - on' approach results in a high retention and understanding of theory. Most importantly, students have an enjoyable learning experience. Many opportunities exist for collaborative group work as well. This gives opportunities for working in a cooperative environment where the importance of positive social skills is stressed.

Harry Ainlay has developed a reputation for curricular expertise and success in Career and Technology Studies. Educators from the University of Alberta and schools throughout the province tour our facility on a regular basis for insight on teaching of Career and Technology Studies. We consistently win local, provincial and national awards in competitions in which our students participate. District awards nights, Merit Contractors Association scholarships, Encounters With Canada participation, Skills Canada medal winners, and American Scholastic Review achievements attest to our success.

Students completing three-year programs are challenging entry courses at NAIT and Marvel College and receiving advanced standing whereby they gain a one-semester advantage.

Career and Technology Studies Week

CTS staff and students participate in exciting activities .....

Students at Harry Ainlay participated in a week of enjoyable activities during the week of March 12-16. On Monday, Honda Extreme displayed some great motorcycles that beckoned the open road. At the same time, NAIT set up several displays allowing students an opportunity to ask questions about programs they might wish to take after high school. A display outlining the apprenticeship program was also present. On Tuesday, Mike Ryan came in and talked to students in Legal Studies classes. Mike started his life with an ongoing series of confrontations with the law resulting from the use of drugs. His story captured the attention of all in attendance because after a thirty-year career of crime, he decided to change his life. He completed studies at university and vowed to reach out to young people hoping that his errors would not be repeated by others. During noon hour, the Cosmetology department set up numerous demonstrations on nail and hair care. On Wednesday, NAIT set up a display of photographs taken by students in their two-year photography program. On Thursday, the Building Construction students competed with staff and others in a very popular nail driving competition. The Design Studies students displayed examples of their work and some computers were attended by students working on CAD projects. On Friday, Heritage Harley Davidson brought several of their motorcycles over for the enjoyment of students. The Fashion Studies students then had a fashion show and girls had an opportunity to walk the ramp and proudly display garments they had designed.

This is the fourth consecutive year that the Career and Technology department hosted CTS Week. Fun was had by all who participated.

International Baccalaureate Program

What the International Baccalaureate program can offer you ...

It's a direct path to University, and is the best possible preparation that one can receive to develop the skills necessary to achieve success there. International Baccalaureate ( IB ) is a rigorous academic program that gives students more opportunities to develop critical thinking skills than any other honors program. Harry Ainlay IB students say that they value the dynamic classroom environment, individual instruction, challenging curriculum, dedicated teachers and the opportunity to develop self-confidence.

Harry Ainlay has the largest IB program in Alberta, and is recognized internationally as one of the largest and most successful IB schools in the world. Harry Ainlay has been offering the program since 1984. Over the years, Harry Ainlay has seen almost 500 students earn the IB Diploma and more than 1500 earn IB Certificates. Each year, approximately 500 students are enrolled in the program. This substantial student population provides the opportunity for a wider selection of IB courses and more flexible time tabling for our students.

Most Universities in Canada and the United States actively recruit IB graduates. Harvard, MIT, Yale, Stanford, and the U of T, to name a few, recognize the IB credentials for advanced placement or transfer credit. Each of the 3,500 universities and colleges in North America has its own admission policy, so recognition of IB courses should not be taken for granted. Contact your University of choice for specific information, or visit the IBO public website at <http://www.ibo.org/ibo/english/diploma.htm>

Second Languages Week

Great food and costume visit Ainlay

Harry Ainlay students hosted Second Languages Week for the sixteenth consecutive year on February 27 - 28. The activities were restricted to two days because of a field trip. Students had opportunities to enjoy food from France, Germany, Japan and Latin America. Food included chicken teriyaki, steamed rice, shushi, schnitzel burgers, hot German potato salad, crepes, and strudel. Various cultural activities were held in classrooms and the ever-popular Japanese Festival took place in the large gym. A special thanks goes out to Mr. Bonneville for organizing this great event that is always well received by students and staff alike.

Core Programs

What happens in the school core programs? .....

Well, as we all know, core subjects includes such areas as English, science, math, and social studies. Everybody has to take such subjects to complete their high school diploma. On the surface, you say "Boring stuff, but we have to do it!"

Wrong! Walking around the hallways and peeping into the classrooms is a very positive experience. Teachers are working with state-of-the-art computers, overhead projection systems, modern labs, and current text books. They are seldom found sitting at their desk. Instead they are walking around working with students in a very warm and friendly atmosphere. Students are polite, positive, interactive, and on task. The hallways are empty.

What a positive and dynamic school to be in!

Fine Art Program

Mr. Miller challenges students in art .....

Under the leadership of Mr. Miller and Ms. Joyce, students are provided with many enjoyable challenges in art. Considerable time is spent perfecting still life drawing with particular attention to light, shadow and form. Students have an opportunity to work with pencil, charcoal, watercolors and oils. Time is also dedicated to sketching the human form. Full figure and individual body parts such as hands are practised. Both realism and surrealism sketches are undertaken.

Mr. Miller is also very talented in the pottery studio. In this environment, students gain experiences in both formal classes and in a very popular pottery club. Students practise coil forming, slab forming, stamping, and of course, throwing on the potter's wheel.

Music

Music students run to a great beat .....

At the beginning of the school year, the music department hosted the Youth Orchestra from Wuppertal, Germany which involved fifty German musicians who performed at Harry Ainlay, the Ross Sheppard music camp, City Hall, and the German Canadian Cultural Centre.

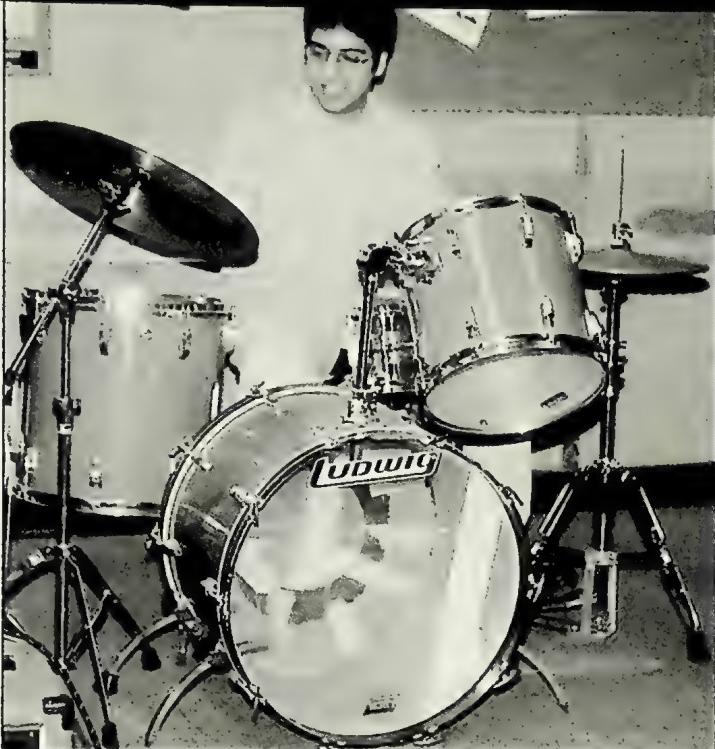

Everyone had a great time and just after they left the band students were already embarking on another band activity where 150 Ainlay music students headed to camp at Camp Nakamun for an educational and fun couple of days. During the time there, the students rehearsed as a massed band, individual bands and choir, as well as treated to individual classes by some of Edmonton's finest musicians. A dance was held the final night and overall the camp was a huge success.

In November, the Alberta Music Conference was held in Edmonton and as a part of that, the Alberta Band Association formed the Provincial Honor Band. This excellent band of the finest high school musicians included Ibukun Adeodu, Todd Carson, Laura Craig, Suzie Picard, Scott Reynolds, Jordan Wilson, and Kristine Park. These students did a great job of representing our school. December held a number of packed concerts where our band played excellently as did the rest of the concerts that lead to the month February and one of our largest undertakings of the year, the Big Band Bash. This years over 250 guests were treated to dinner, dancing, great music by Harry Ainlay's Jazz ensembles as well as a very successful Silent Auction.

Also in February, the Alberta Band Association hosted its first ever Provincial Honor Jazz Band. Harry Ainlay was well represented by Marty Majorowicz, Laura Craig, and Johanna Hansen. March saw our participation in the Alberta International Band Festival where we were awarded a trophy naming Harry Ainlay's symphonic band as the Most Outstanding High School Concert Band. In April, the Concert Band and Concert Choir participated in the Abbotsford International Music Festival and both were awarded with Superior marks.

In May was the evening of the 4th annual Winds at the Winspear concert. Joining our groups this year were the grade nine concert bands from Avalon, Riverbend, and Vernon Barford. This concert has traditionally been a great one and this year was no exception, as all of groups performed as professionals in one of the finest concert Band and Symphonic Band took part in this festival. Our final concerts were held in June and the audiences were treated to some great music by all of the ensembles. Next, we'll be heading off for a concert in Italy in the summer. Bon Voyage!

"Love makes you see a place differently..." Over the past three years, I have come to love the structure we call Harry Ainlay High School. Obviously, the stony, windowless walls are not the object of my affection. Instead, it is what Harry Ainlay represents to me. Every time I reminisce over high school, I remember you: the amazing students and staff who have made Ainlay an incredible experience. Thank you for "Making the Difference" by being involved in our school and community over the 2000-2001 school year. As you look back within this yearbook, I hope that "every moment--no matter how casual, how ordinary--is poised, full of gaping life." (Anne Michaels) We will not fully realize what and who impacted our lives until these moments have undergone the test of our memory. Thanks Titans.

Anne Aspler
 Student's Union
 President

The past year has flown by as Titans were involved in many different activities and events. We encouraged students to "Make the Difference" in their school by volunteering and participating in events such as TVT, Tri-Prov, Blood Donor Clinic, CultureFest, and more! Although this year has been brief in comparison to a lifetime, it has encompassed countless memories. In the rotunda, activities during Welcome Week, G.I.F.T. Week, Halloween, Christmas, and countless other occasions were both innovative and fun. Day-long events such as A Touch of Class and Aloha Ainlay proved to be enjoyable and memorable for both students and staff. In addition, Ainlay made a difference in the community through events like the Junior High Leadership Conference, the Food Bank Drive, Turkey Drive, and A Walk Around the World. Collectively, Ainlay staff and students possess an extraordinary wealth of talents and special abilities. Together, we have demonstrated excellence in every area and achieved more than we could have possibly imagined. I am truly proud to be a Titan.

Christian team unites friendship ...

SWAT, 'Students With a Testimony,' is a group of Christian students who encourage, share, and challenge one another to become a light in the school. Everyone is welcome to attend SWAT meetings on Tuesday of every week. In SWAT you do lots of things like praise, worship, and develop a network of friends. Members this year were: Stephen Philps, Hayley McGibbon, James McKinley, Chris Dyer, Stephen Chute, Connor Doran, Christine Nakimbugwe, Joanna Gottlob, Michael Dickau, Matt Chute, Miranda Ho, and Sine Abebe. Student leaders were Stephen and Hayley. Our teacher sponsor is Mr. Suderman.

"No one lights a lamp and puts it in a place where it will be hidden under a bowl. Instead he puts it on its stand so that those who come in will see the light." Luke 11:33

What is Anime you ask? It's Japanese cell-based animation that ranges through many topics, age groups, and styles of art. Here at Ainlay we try to show a variety of Anime that has not been released to North American audiences, but allow for some dubs. Also TANE is the first high school club to join Anime Alberta, an organization that opens the lines of communication between the university and now high school Anime clubs in the province. This year we also decided on our mascot, logo, and we changed our name from AMC to TANE. We ordered T-shirts this year and they look hot! New members are always welcome. Group president is Tara Jorgensen and vice president is Karen Lo.

Origami

Origami Club: Many children and adults enjoy Origami, the art of paper folding. Its popularity has now been spread all over the world. Origami ranges from a simple form of child's play to a complex artform. Members of the Origami Club meet on Wednesdays to work on projects such as seasonal ornaments, animals, flowers and geometric shapes.

Unsinkable journalism

The Titanic staff had an amazing time running The Titanic this year. Many eager applicants applied for various positions and finally after some difficult decisions, the applicants were narrowed down to 15 eligible writers for specific positions and by the end of the year there was an even stronger team. Over time, friendships were built, ideas were expressed at meetings, and a dynamic group was woven. The goal was to reach out to the student body at Harry Ainlay and that was exactly what occurred as the hard working writers constantly got the latest news at the school and interacted with the students. The first issue was huge, with 20 pages of sports, welcome back notes, top ten, current activites in our school, movie reviews, music reviews, editorials, fashion, advice columns, quizzes, horoscopes, and much, much more! The Titanic had another four successful issues and then wrapped up the year. This year's Titanic experienced smooth sailing and best wishes and good luck go to next year's Titan group. Thanks Ainlay for the constant and continual support and remember to keep this Titan Tradition alive.

Writers Club

The art of writing

One of the few wishes of writers everywhere is an audience with which to share their material and writings and Ainlay students have the perfect answer... Writer's Club. This club allows for a group of Ainlay students to get together once every week to share their stories, poems, and jokes. Not only do they have fun, but they also gain experience in making speeches and are able to go through the writings of other authors. Every lunch hour, their meetings together demonstrate the great enthusiasm these students have for getting involved and have helped the various members develop strong friendships. The students enjoy reading, writing, and creating new writing techniques for short stories and poems and are always quick to share in their discoveries with the other members. For those with a creative mind and knack for writing, this club was perfect and all participants are looking forward to next year.

Titan Tradition Yearbook

Ainlay students push creativity with computers

The Titan Tradition yearbook students leaned heavily towards the use of digital imaging and desktop publishing in the production of this yearbook. Almost all of the photographs this year have been scanned and brought into Adobe Photoshop for control of brightness and contrast.

Students assembled weekly on Mondays and Tuesdays in Room 140 to develop skills in photography and desktop publishing. The majority of pictures were taken by students and for the first time, many photos were captured directly with digital cameras.

Scuba Club

Scuba club dives into Pacific Ocean in Victoria ...

The Scuba Club was involved in a number of excellent activities throughout the year. Unfortunately, the whole club could not go on a trip to the coast, but a few of our members were able to go on their own to Victoria to complete their advanced certification over spring break. A few other members have been certified for their open water in Jasper. However, the scuba club was able to go to a dive at West Edmonton Mall. It was a very enjoyable and exciting experience. Next year, the club hopes to return to the coast or perhaps even some place warm in the spring.

Ping-Pong & Chess Clubs

During noon hours students gathered in Room 171 to play ping pong, chess and assorted card games. It was not uncommon to see over twenty-five students enjoying friendship and common interests.

Amnesty International

"It is better to light a candle than curse the darkness."

The Amnesty International Club at Harry Ainlay encourages students to get involved in social justice issues from all over the world. The students work together to promote awareness of the many human rights abuses so as to educate those that do not realize what really goes on in the world outside of Canada. The students take these events and take action to address these global concerns.

In the 2000-2001 school year, the Amnesty Club began with an awareness campaign. On December 9th the club held a letter writing session in the rotunda at lunch to celebrate "International Human Rights Day." As well, students did presentations in grade ten Social Studies classes on the work of Amnesty International.

The Amnesty Club also held a benefit concert this year as "A Tribute To Freedom," which featured Bomba!, OKOTO drummers, and Ainlay alumni, Maren Ord. Powerful testimonials from those in attendance recall a tribute to freedom delivered by Rene Salazar, Mr. D'Lia, and Arton Berisha; readings by Mr. Azania, Mr. McNab and Rachel Teichrob; music by Mr. Powell, Genevieve Powell, and Jinting Zhao, and East Indian dancers. This concert was organized by thirty committed Amnesty members who were lead by committee chairpersons: Anna Magera, Jessica Spanton, Hiromi Koriyama, Megan Broomhall, Melissa Shah, Quinn Grundy, Neshali Weena, Jennifer Banda, Janeen Lang and Ms. Newbold (Staff Advisor).

Debate Club

Ainlay hosts National Tournament ...

In this past year, members of the debate club participated in numerous city tournaments including the Sir Winston Churchill Speech Tournament and the Grant Davy Debate Tournament at the University of Alberta. Our members all had great fun while proudly representing our school on the local debating scene. Model Legislature was attended by a number of Ainlay debaters and the political parties that they represented all performed very well. Workshops where new members learned how to debate and veterans honed their skills were also part of the club's program. Most importantly, this year the debate club hosted the Canadian National Debate Tournament where teams from across Canada came to debate in both English and French. Thanks to the hard work of volunteers and various club members, the tournament was a great success. Competing debaters and coaches were all greatly impressed with the debate club's organization. The club itself is growing and looks forward to future accomplishments with next year's leadership.

Encounters with Canada

The real Canadian experience ...

Encounters with Canada is a travel program sponsored by the federal government and the Royal Canadian Legion which gives students from the ages of 15 to 17 the opportunity to discover more about our country. Participants can choose between sessions on topics such as Sports and Fitness, Arts and Culture, Journalism, Science and Technology, and Canada and the World. About 120 students from across Canada assembled at the Terry Fox Youth Center in Ottawa throughout the school year for their week-long seminars. Each seminar had speakers and activities directly linked to the topic, but they shared common activities like tours of Ottawa and the Parliament, group presentations and a talent show at the center. This year, Anuj Rawat, Ryan Williams, Jason Wong, Michael Dickau, Cenobar Parker, Uzma Rajan, Jessica Spanton, Dustin Wenger, Sonia Delhon, Matthew Min, Heather Gower, Dan Garth, Ravi Naidoo, and Ashley Harrison had the opportunity to be up close and personal with all this great nation has to offer.

Here's Jessica's account of her adventure: The best part of the seminars, according to practically everyone who participated was meeting so many amazing people. It's a bit bizarre at first being put in a building with more than 120 strangers and expected to make friends, but believe me, it happened--and quickly too. I learned that Newfies aren't all stupid, that not all Quebecers are separatists, that prairie-dwellers aren't all redneck farmers, and that not everyone from Whistler does drugs. But the most amazing things I learned are that we should be, and I now am, truly proud to be Canadian and that our generation could be successful in anything we decide to do. The people I met were motivated, sincere, and encouraging--everything we would want in those who will lead our country. I have made friendships that are still strong despite the fact that we are separated by thousands of kilometres. The week I spent in Ottawa was one of the best of my life (despite the sometimes questionable cafeteria food) and I encourage everyone to try it for themselves. Good luck! And thank you to all the people and organizations that made Encounters with Canada possible for myself and all the other participants.

Ainlay Ambassadors

Ambassadors for the School

The Ainlay Ambassadors are a club of active, energetic students who involve Ainlay with the community through volunteer work and fundraisers. Activities and projects in the past have included cookie fundraisers for the Youth Emergency Shelter, the Edmonton Food Bank, and the Cody Liden fund. Ainlay students raised over $300 in donations and pet supplies for the SPCA Adopt/Support-A-Pet Campaign and also hosted a Christmas Ornament Session for students at an inner-city elementary school this year. In March, the club volunteered at the Saint Patrick's Day Fun Run and Parade of Whyte Avenue in support of both Y.E.S.S. and the Edmonton Food Bank. Ainlay Ambassador's club members gave up their Sunday in order to support these causes and worked in collaboration with a variety of community groups so that the event would be a success. It was a large scale event with approximately 300 participants in the race and over 200 entries in the parade, along with 20,000 spectators. Also in March, the Ainlay Ambassadors organized and arranged a basketball team. Mr. Poole, the coach, along with the Titans Basketball team, spent an afternoon at the school running a Coaching Clinic for two grade six classes. The students at Earl Buxton had a lot of fun as did those on the basketball teams. The Ainlay Ambassadors do not just represent the school and help those in the community, they are having fun too.

"It was fun contributing to the community because we knew we were helping out," comments Ainlay Ambassador Evelina Warchol.

PALS for Life

PALS International, Peer Ambassador and Leadership Students, was formed last year with the aim to help ESL and other new students adjust to Harry Ainlay as well as Edmonton. They meet weekly to plan extracurricular activities for club members. This year, the club kicked off the new year with a Barbecue at Whitemud Park. The goal was to bring new members into the club, and to bond with each other. The barbecue was a huge success with the help of the leaders. The students had a great meal and had many chances to play some sports with other members of the club. In winter of this year, PALS International decided to bring experience to the Canadian sport of skiing and snowboarding for those who have never experienced such an exciting sport. The club then brought the members out to a nice trip to Snow Valley. This year's activities also included skating, bowling, and laser tag as well as volunteering at the Festival of Trees. PALS International is a club that provides opportunities to learn about cultural diversity.

Never surrender

The modern name for Go in Chinese is Weiqi (pronounced way-chee) which means the surrounding game. The object of the game of go is to secure territory by surrounding it will stones of only one color. At the end of the game, the amount of vacant space is calculated. The player who has succeeded in occupying the larger territory, wins. New students are always welcome to join the Go club and learn how to play this game. Lessons are available from Mrs. Pombert or other club members. The Go club meets every Tuesday at lunch in Room 171.

Junior Men's Volleyball

Volleyball Team Set for Success

The Junior Titans completed a very successful season this year. They celebrated gold at the Western Canada Redmen tournament in Calgary. They continued their success at the Salisbury Sabres tournament in Sherwood Park, defeating the home team to capture the gold medal. A bronze medal in Red Deer, that may have been due to extreme weather conditions, left the team stranded another night with the Junior Women. Bronze medals at Jr. T.V.T and in League had the team never leaving a tournament without bringing home some hardware. Thanks, Keir Jenkins

Senior Women's Volleyball

The senior women's volleyball team capped off a truly outstanding season by winning the 4A Provincial Championship. The Titans were the only team to go undefeated throughout the provincial championships. Our overall record was an impressive forty-five wins and only five losses. The ladies won the silver medal at TVT, Handsworth Invitational, Salisbury tournament and won a bronze medal at the University of Alberta tournament. Our amazing season was a reflection of an entire team totally committed to each other and our goals. Well done Titans!

Senior Men's Basketball

Shooting stars....

The Senior Men's Basketball team remained one of the top teams in Alberta during the 2000/2001 season. Ranked in the top ten for most of the season, highlights included a successful defense of the Tri-Prov Championship and participation in the Edmonton 4A Zone Playoffs.

Cheer supports Ainlay at all major events

The Harry Ainlay Cheer Program was excited to field two competitive teams this year. The first was a "Small Varsity" squad consisting of ten athletes who competed against other high school teams of similar size. The Small Varsity squad put in some excellent performances capturing a first place finish before a technical penalty moved them to fifth, two fourth place and one second place finish. This team really came together and worked hard to push themselves both as a team and individually.

A "Large Varsity" squad consisting of eighteen athletes also competed against similar sized high school squads and put in one sixth place, two third place and one first place finishes. Both teams travelled to Port Moody, B.C. in March to end off their season with their best performances of the year!! In addition to competing, the squads performed at in-school events such as TVT and Tri-Prov as well as supporting both the Junior and Senior football teams in the regular season and play-off games. All 28 athletes worked hard and represented Harry Ainlay extremely well. Great job ladies!

City Championship Returns Home!

Badminton

As the month of February began, the 2000-01 badminton team was ready to roll. The team practiced during lunch hours four times a week, under the guidance of team advisors and coaches Ms. Skrypnek, Ms. Ito-Fedrau, Ms. Campbell, Keith Lee, and Cyrus Chan. After months of hard work and dedication, the Titans performed extraordinarily and triumphed over W. P. Wagner in city finals, bringing home the Edmonton City Championship that had eluded Ainlay for two years. Sonia Delhon also won gold in Edmonton zone finals and finished an outstanding third place at the Provincial Championships. Congratulations players on a successful season!

Titan's play that seems to always result in bruises and bite marks. The rucks, the mauls...whatever the play, the Ainlay teams had a wonderful and fun season and any of them will tell you that rugby is the best sport ever.

Curling

"It's a Canadian thing, eh?"

For the 2000-2001 curling season, Harry Ainlay attempted to keep four teams in the Greater Edmonton High School Curling League, a 68-team league. However, for the league play-off round, the number of teams from Ainlay was reduced to two. These two teams successfully competed in the senior boy's consolation round and finished in first and second place for a great finish. The members of the first place team were Jordan Wilson, Ryan Taylor, Erik Parker, and Geoffrey Armstrong. Members of the second place team were Todd Carson, Neil Crowell, Ian Beamish, and Randall Burke. Both teams went on to the Edmonton Zone Curling Playdowns, but did not finish in first place. Only first place teams in the boys, girls and mixed division proceed on to the Provincial Playdowns.

Track and Field

On track for excellence...

Harry Ainlay had its best year in Track and Field since 1987. Led by a strong Junior Men's team, which won their division, the Titans finished a strong second at the City Championships with only 31 athletes. Thirteen of those athletes qualified to represent Harry Ainlay and Edmonton at the provincial Championships in Lethbridge where Ainlay finished third over all. There were several outstanding gold medal performances at both the Cities and Provincials: Colin Amsbaugh (4 City, Provincial); Mark Cocks (2 City); Elaine Hua (3 City); Derek Proudfoot (City, Provincial); Chris Howell (City, Provincial); Kelty Schwindt (City Record for Intermediate Girls Triple Jump); Jeffrey Leong (City); Carle Evans (City); Kerri Crozier (City); Stewart Wilson (City, Provincial); Mike Olsen (City). This year marks the end of High School competition for both Kerri Crozier, a three year Titan, and Elaine Hua who was a Titan for only a year. Congratulations to all participants for an outstanding year of Track and Field.

Junior Men's Soccer

The first Titan Cup...

Ainlay had a great soccer season this year as tons of talent was found at the school. An incredible squad was put together as the guys prepared themselves both physically and mentally for the outdoor season. The team's first triumph was found in winning the "Titan Cup Soccer Tournament" for the first time and as the season progressed many other wins followed. The Titans ended up first in their league, but unfortunately when the City Championships came around, the Titan men were defeated in their first game. The Titans were devastated, but finished off the season at a party over at Mr. Saccomanno's. When it comes to playoffs, the ball is round and it's anybody's game, but the Titan men know that there's always next year.

Senior Men's Soccer

The Senior Men's soccer team, coached by ex-Ainlay student, and Golden Bear soccer player, Cristian Hernandez, in his fourth year as head coach, turned a collection of 21 individuals into a very cohesive and powerful team. Starting slowly, they lost two of their first four league games, to Wagner and J. Percy Page, but picked it up as they started to realize their potential.

As one of four public school teams invited to the prestigious NAIT preseason tournament, they lost the semi-final to Wagner (again) in penalty kicks, after an overtime tie. From that point, the team did not lose another league or tournament game, winning the first annual Titan Cup over Ross Shep, 3-0. They concluded their regular season knocking off the first place undefeated LaZerte Voyageurs, 5-1.

In the city playoffs, they defeated Ross Shep in penalty kicks, and then met Wagner (for the third time), in the City Finals, where they finally triumphed in overtime 2-1, to win the crown.

Safraz Merali, the most valuable player in the Titan Cup was selected as the MVP for the Titans for the season. Fuad Fazlic, the keeper, was outstanding in the net over the year. The team consisted of fourteen grade 12 players, ten of which were starters. The only grade 11 starter was Andrew Mataya, who was injured early in the season, but recovered slowly, and eventually rejoined the team for the last few league games, and scored the winning goal in overtime, to clinch the championship trophy.

Missing: Shamsh Moosa, Blake Schols, Ravinder Virk

Junior Football

Ainlay's football teams kick to success

The Junior Football team had one of it's most successful years in recent history. Once again we fielded a team of all grade 10 students, with only 2 exceptions. We were very competitive considering we started nine 14 year olds. With this very young team we defeated a very large and aggressive Parkland team for the first time in team history....and we did in Stoney Plain. We then went on to beat Jasper Place High for the first time in 3 years. The Junior Football team was eliminated from the City Championship Play-Offs in the semi-finals. This was an excellent season filled with many exciting moments for both coaches and players alike.

The Harry Ainlay Titans senior football team returned from the depths this year. It had been two seasons since the Titans made the playoffs, but this year's team was determined to bring that streak to an end.

With a young team, the Titans got off to a slow start, but the leadership of our grade 12's helped us get going in the right direction, and a tie against undefeated Parkland followed by a win over the defending provincial champions from Jasper Place got the team into the playoffs.

Even though we were defeated in the semi-finals, the year had to be judged as a huge success.

Our team's most valuable player was Ryan Adams, who led the league in rushing. Pascal Kokke was selected as our top lineman, while Brett Sparrow was the winner of the rookie of the year award.

Next year's team promises to be even better than this year's, thanks to the leadership lessons they got from our graduating players. Good luck to all our graduates.

Titans Volleyball Tournament

Ainlay teams rocket into finals

The 21st annual Titan Volleyball Tournament opened with an amazing show of talents from singers to dancers and even a demonstration of the Ainlay teams' volleyball skills that would be used to take off in the upcoming competition. The entire tournament was played with great sportsmanship, teamwork, and cooperation. With teams as far away as Winnipeg, Harry Ainlay was proud to host such thrilling and unprecedented match-ups. In the TVT Classics, our Junior Men's team won bronze while our Junior Women's team finished with the silver medal. The Senior Women's and Senior Men's teams fought very close matches and both finished with the silver medal. A number of our Titans were recognized as tournament all stars: Krista Kaert and Amanda Chen (Junior Women); K.J. Darius (Junior Men); Lori Gregoire and Janelle Findlay (Senior Women); Colin Irvine, Nick Cundy, and Brock Davidiuk (Senior Men). The tournament was flawless, thanks to the hard work of the TVT committee and the teacher advisors. This resulted in a soaring success of an Ainlay tournament tradition.

A Touch of Class

Ainlay students classiest of them all once again ...

One of Harry Ainlay's most anticipated events of the year was A Touch of Class! The day brings elegance, refinement and class to a day that would ordinarily be a typical day at school. Most everyone showed up at school in their best : tuxedos, suits, dresses, gowns, tiaras... Everyone was dressed to impress. The decorations committee was also very hard at work as was seen in the wonderful decorations all over the school. We had balloon arches and everyone's name was written on a star and put up all over the school to create an astounding atmosphere of stars. Volunteers served refreshments at every break and every girl was handed a flower when she entered the school. As well, the symphonic band gave another awesome performance while the dance club amazed everyone once again. Cafe Viveza in the art gallery gave this years event a special unique feel and helped display Ainlay at its best.

Battle of the Bands

9th Annual Battle of the Bands rocks Ainlay

On Thursday, March 22, the theatre was hypnotized by the amazing talent of six bands who competed for first place. The audience enjoyed the tunes of The Franklins, Kickback, Dissidence, Adrenaline, Lungbudder and Elixir. These bands covered classic songs as well performed their own original songs. The budding stars put on a thrilling performance. It an amazing show of Ainlay talents. Thanks a million to all the Ainlay volunteers who made this a high note.

Culture Fest

Culture fest brings the rotunda to life

On March 5-8 students and faculty gathered around the rotunda for the bright colours and sounds of Culture Fest. Students, staff, and community members were attracted to the rotunda by the sound of singing and dancing, and the smell of food from cultures all around the world. Spectators joined in the festivities with activities such as the spice eating contest and pinatas. Along with food venues set up around the rotunda, spectators were invited to share in some of the displays set up by students and cultural organizations. To add to the fun, a kung fu demonstration, followed by a fashion show put on by students and teachers was enjoyed by all.

Open House

Parents and students flock to the annual open house

On March 8 Harry Ainlay opened up its doors to the community to share with it the inside story of Ainlay's programs and classes. Hundreds of parents and prospective students had an opportunity to tour the school, visit the various teachers, ask questions of Ainlay students and view the many programs that Ainlay offers. The decision to choose your high school can be a hard one, but after seeing exactly what goes on in Ainlay and what it has to offer, the decision is made very easily. Harry Ainlay offers many options to students and all of them were on display at the Open House throughout the school with stunning presentations, demonstrations, magic shows, and displays. Career and Technology Studies, Music, and Sciences were but a few of the program areas that entertained the crowds with on the spot pictures, singing and even dissections in the lab. A number of Ainlay's extracurricular clubs were also set up in the rotunda which displayed some of the true character of Harry Ainlay. The evening turned out well and once again Ainlay was able to show the true spirit that all Titans share.

Science Olympics

Ainlay students strive to success

Science Olympics were held this year on March 10, 2001 at the Shaw Conference Centre and all who participated had a blast. This year Harry Ainlay had two teams that attended the competitions made up from students of all grades and classes. At the actual Olympics, the Ainlay teams were able to take part in 3 mystery events that all were a lot of fun, but not before they prepared the initial 2 events prior to the competition.

These two events included creating a cube combining theories of Science and Art as well as constructing an artificial arm. Both events were done well and the teams had a lot of fun working together. Unfortunately though, at this particular competition the Ainlay teams did not win anything, although their hard work and strive for higher standards made the Olympics more competitive. Nevertheless, everyone had a blast!

IB Europe Trip

Oh the places we went...

The Ainlay trip abroad was once again a success. This year, the students and teachers voyaged to Germany, Austria and France and were able to experience a number of different cultures. The trip started in Munich where they were able to see various tourist highlights such as the world famous Glockenspiel that has mechanical figures which joust and play instruments as the clock strikes. The group was given a number of days in Munich before they moved on to Salzburg or the "Sound of Music" land and then onto Strasbourg, France. The journey included the beautiful Cathedral and picturesque streets with carved timbered houses, and who could go to Paris and not stop at the Eiffel Tower and Notre Dame. Each day was filled with professional tour guides, excellent hotels, and world-class restaurants. Although there were some planned activities, it was also made sure of that everyone would have free time for what they wanted to do and therefore the sightseeing was continuous and expanded all sorts of sites. After seeing the Musee du Louvre and the Palace of Versailles, the Titans left France and flew home back to Canada. The 12 days were enjoyed by all and everyone arrived home safely. Those who experienced the trip returned with a new appreciation for other cultures as well as the pleasure of sleeping in their own beds.

Skills Canada

Put your skills to the test

Fourteen Harry Ainlay students competed in this year's Skills Canada Alberta provincial competitions held at the Agricentre, May 29th and 30th. The Skills Canada competition recognizes technological excellence in CTS students. These students and their competitions are listed at the bottom. All of the competitors had a marvelous time and represented our school well. Mike Hubscher was the winner of Workman's Compensation Board's Award for Work Safety in Automotive Services. Tommy Baumstark was the gold medal winner for Business Computer Applications - Spreadsheet. Shawn Halvorson and Jacob Straszynski won the silver medal for Web Site Design.

Titans Light it Up

Tri-Prov 2001

For the past 27 years, the Tri-Provincial Basketball Tournament has attracted the finest athletes to compete in one of the best tournaments in Western Canada. Tri-Prov 2001 was no exception, proving successful both on the court and off. With 32 teams from the four western provinces, fans were excited by the usual intense level of competition. Tri-Prov began with the Jr. High Tournament, and continued the following weekend with the Junior Tournament, in which our own junior men's and women's teams captured the gold. The Senior Tournament kicked off with the opening ceremonies, which featured in-school singing talent, dunking wonderboys, and former Titan, and Golden Bear Mike Melnychuk made a guest appearance. The Senior Men's team earned their sixth straight title, defeating Edmonton's own Archbishop O'Leary Spartans in the final. Our Senior Women's team received second place, falling to the number-one ranked Chestermere Lady Lakers from Calgary in a gruelling final match. Congratulations to the student organizing committee, led by Nandini Somayaji for once again putting on a terrific show and proving that Tri-Prov still is the best basketball tournament in Western Canada!

Congratulations to the Ainlay tournament M.V.P.s!
Sr. Men - Dave Brimacombe
Jr. Men - Victor Vun
Jr. Women - Leanne Barrett

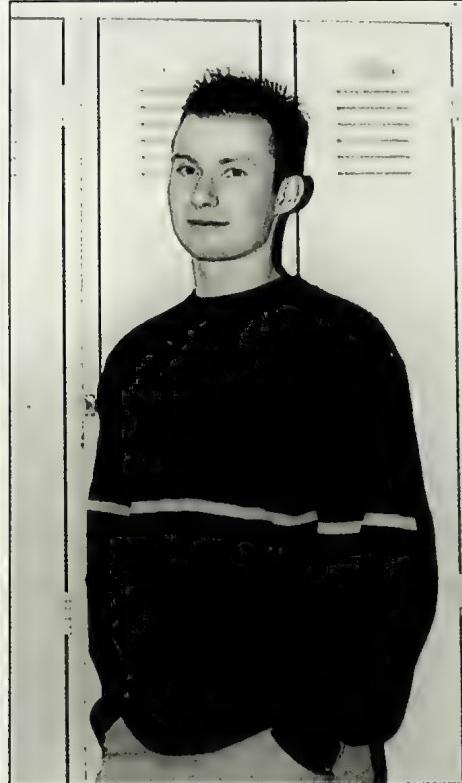

Also congratulations to Titan Kelty Schwindt who was selected as the Senior Women's top defensive player.

Graduation

Ainlay at its Finest

Learning from the past, stepping into the future...

Graduation is an important time for everyone, whether it is friends, family or the graduands themselves. Celebrating the end of the students' school careers, graduation is always a memorable experience. The Graduation Committee organized many exciting and memorable events from picture appointments to the Graduation Fashion Show. With Commencement at the Jubilee Auditorium and the Grad Banquet at the Shaw Conference Centre, these two evenings were full of class, culture, and motivation for the future. The graduands were reminded of past occurrences through class historians and speeches but also encouraged to look ahead to what is held in store for them through motivational speeches and prayers. As the commencement theme stated, "Reach for the Stars," it is hoped that the graduands of 2001 will use their knowledge to the best of their abilities so as to create another generation of stars. Having gone through the experience of being recognized for their efforts of the past 12 years, the graduands can now move on to fulfilling their ambitions and dreams. A time for closure as well as a time for a new beginning, graduation was undoubtedly a success. It gave the students a time to reflect and thank all those who supported and encouraged them throughout their journey.

Grad Fashion Show

Ainlay grads strut their stuff...

This year's Grad Fashion Gala was at a new time and venue. In order to increase awareness and attendance with the Grad's, it was held in the rotunda at lunch hour. Our "tuxedo clad" administrators served guests sitting in the front VIP seats. It was a first class event enjoyed by staff and students. A big thank-you to Southgate Centre for their prizes, merchant participation, hair and make-up services.

Because of the community and student involvement, the Gala was a success.

President's Address

Sean Yam

Tonight we stand on the threshold of a new beginning. All our "blood, tears, toil and sweat" have paid off, and here we are, ready to go boldly into the future. And indeed our futures are bright; filled with the promise of new adventures, challenges, and of course, knowledge. However, graduation does not just spontaneously happen. It is the culmination of all the sacrifices that we have made and continue to make, the efforts that we have expended and continue to expend, and the sense of duty that we have had and still adhere to.

We must also remember that none of us could have reached this academic milestone without the patience of our families - for they have raised, guided and stood by us, or without the counsel of our teachers - for they too have raised us, and have opened our hearts and minds to all the wonders of the world, and certainly we would not have arrived at this moment without the love of our friends - for we unconditionally support each other, bring laughter to one another's lives, and leave each other with unforgettable memories.

Principal's Message

Mr. N. Kunst

It's a pretty impressive sight when I look out on you this evening. I see bright young faces, crisp collars, a sky of blue flowing robes, starry, twinkling eyes, and broad smiles. I see confident young people of character, full of dreams for their future. I see proud parents and proud teachers. It's a little hard to tell who is the most proud to see you here this evening - your parents, who have loved you and watched as you took your first, independent steps away from them when you came to school, - or your teachers who have encouraged and watched you develop independent thoughts, set personal goals, and stretch to meet your learning potential. For each of us, parents and teachers alike, you are a shining star in our eyes and in our hearts.

When I was three or four years old, I remember the overwhelming sense of awe and wonder I felt when I looked up at the night sky. It was filled with thousands of bright, twinkling stars. I remember thinking that they were so close, if I just stretched just a little further, I could touch them with my finger tips. I'm sure many of you can remember a deep blue night sky full of millions of stars, each of them burning brightly in their own right and yet somehow all contributing a bit of themselves to something much bigger.

Stars are special. They symbolize our hopes, our goals, and our dreams. From Walt Disney's theme song, "When you wish upon a star" to often heard slogans like "Reach for the stars", we recognize that stars have come to represent the future. You are our stars; you are our future. With your hopes are our hopes. With your dreams are our dreams. As you continue to build your individual ladder of success, from one goal to the next, you continue to add to the quality of the relationships and successes of your family, your friends, your careers, and your community. It is important to build each step of your ladder on a strong foundation of character. Integrity, honesty, respect, fairness, forgiveness, and responsibility - these are a solid foundation. As you climb your ladder in pursuit of your selected stars, I hope you will anchor your ladder upon this foundation, a foundation of character that we have built together during your senior year. You can feel proud of the legacy of character education that you leave with us.

Your parents will forever see you as children. Your teachers will forever see you as students. You probably see both of us as "old" or more politely, as way more mature than you can ever possibly imagine becoming yourself. You see yourselves as ready. You are young. You are vibrant. You are hopeful. And, you are our future.

As you step onto the next rung of your ladder, my wish is that you keep your passion for learning, your zest for living, your inquisitive spirit for truth, and your sense of fairness and compassion for life's many challenges. I hope that the wonder and excitement of the night sky keeps you forever young as you stretch to reach your special star.

Twelve years or perhaps only one year ago, this step we are now taking may have seemed an eternity away. More concerned then about our lives at hand, we could only hope that tonight would eventually arrive. Our hopes have come true, and while we are anxious to experience more of life, we are also apprehensive to leave a place that has cared for us and provided us with so much. Nevertheless, the brave new world that Shakespeare envisioned awaits, and we must take all that we have learned and rise to the challenges that lie ahead. For the greatest lesson we have had thus far is that despite the hardships that confront us, we must persevere and go forward in order to better ourselves. Fearing our tomorrows and refusing to advance cannot be allowed. Nor can we ignore the fact that there are people of our generation, people in our own communities, people in our world who have not enjoyed the good fortune that we have. We must strive to use all the wisdom that we have gained to aid these people and serve humankind.

All of us share common experiences, thus any advice I would give, you probably already know. Therefore, I simply implore you never to forget the last three years; remember all that you have learned, never be afraid to take risks, never fear standing up for that which is just, never leave your dreams behind, never lose faith, never regret, and never, never give up, for those are just the places and the times that the tide will turn.

My fellow graduands, I know that we will all find fulfillment in the future, and I know that we all have the capability to succeed. Senior class of 2001, congratulations and God Speed.

Message from the Board of Trustees

Mr. G.P. Nicholson

Good evening ladies and gentlemen, family and friends.

It is my singular privilege to bring greetings on behalf of the Trustees of the Edmonton Public School Board to this distinguished group of young people - the Harry Ainlay class of 2001.

Harry Ainlay has a special place in my heart since the best years of my career in education were spent as principal of Harry Ainlay Composite High School.

I was reminiscing about my time at Harry Ainlay, and an incident came to mind which occurred some years ago that I believe summarizes the feelings of Harry Ainlay graduates. A former President of the Student Council dropped in for a visit after completing her first year of University. Jolan Storch was an honors student, an exemplary student leader, an exceptional athlete, and a young woman with wisdom beyond her years.

Jolan had completed her first year at the University of Toronto and was a nationally ranked volleyball player. Needless to say, I was extremely pleased to see her after her year at U of T and we had a most pleasant chat - At the end of our conversation, I politely invited her to drop into my school anytime she had the opportunity and she would always be welcome - Jolan was very quick to remind me that this was not "your school" Mr. N. Harry Ainlay is my school - You're only taking care of it for a little while.

I trust that all the graduates of 2001 share Jolan's proprietary feelings with respect to Harry Ainlay. Since I graduated in 1992, after taking 8 years to complete high school, I feel that Jolan would now allow me to call Harry Ainlay "my school."

I visit your school quite often and over the past year I have been most favorably inspired with the focus on character education that the entire school community has embraced with such enthusiasm.

We all recognize that it is important for schools to provide students with opportunities to acquire a second language, to learn about fine and practical arts, to have a knowledge of mathematics, to be able to express yourselves and communicate well in your mother tongue and to have a knowledge of Canadian history and governmental structure.

I believe it is also important that our schools teach more than subject matter. Harry Ainlay has taught all of you invaluable lessons in human relations. An individual's character is formed and molded when the lessons of human relations are internalized. A person's character defines what a person truly is. Harry Ainlay School has been a major partner of your home, your family and your community in helping you to develop your unique individual character.

Character is the complex of mental and ethical traits, which mark and individualize a person. Each of us develops these traits through our respective experiences with others - our family and friends, our ministers and our teachers. One becomes a person of character when this complex of mental and ethical traits is synthesized and manifested in a positive and productive manner.

Harry Ainlay teachers have always had a commitment to teach beyond curriculum content. Your teachers have provided you with examples, illustrations and comparisons to encourage you and motivate you to learn your subject matter. Your teachers have also encouraged you to recognize that there are admirable qualities of character such as integrity, honesty and responsibility and have challenged you to find these qualities within yourself. Make certain that you recognize the importance of human relations in the development of your own character. The manner in which you interact with others is the manifestation of your character.

You are on the brink of a new world and a new century which you will create. Intellectually, you will have more knowledge than any other generation and you will accumulate even more knowledge with even greater technological advances. Physically, you will be healthier than any previous generation with advances in nutrition, preventative measures and medical treatment, which will ensure that you will live healthier and longer. You are facing a changing world and you are going to help create a better albeit a different one.

I want to remind you of Mohandas Gandhi's description of the 7 sins of Mankind:

- Wealth without work
- Pleasure without conscience
- Commerce without morality
- Science without humanity
- Worship without sacrifice
- Politics without principle
- Knowledge without character.

Gandhi was endowed with the title Mahatma to recognize the purity of his character. Not all of us will reach Gandhi's level of purity and self-sacrifice, but each of us, in our own way must work to make our school, our community, and indeed our world a better place for everyone. I believe you are well on your way to achieving the knowledge and character necessary to help you accomplish your individual goals, and in turn to achieve those common goals which will benefit our entire society.

Class of 2001 you have surmountable challenges ahead of you. They are surmountable because your parents, guardians, teachers and friends have placed great faith in your collective ability and character. We are confident that you will do us proud.

I would be remiss if I did not offer congratulations to a very special group of 2001 graduates. This year's grad list contains 16 teachers who will join me as honorary graduates of Harry Ainlay School. I've had the opportunity to work with all of them and their graduation will result in a marked change in the hallways and classrooms of Ainlay. They have been an integral part of the fabric of the school and they will be greatly missed. I know that they will now have the opportunity to pursue their respective dreams and I wish each of them success in their future endeavors.

Congratulations to Gerry Bonnema, Richard Bonneville, Rillah Carson, Gerri Elchuk, Laurie Jewell, Noel Kunst, Larry Lerbekmo, Lorne Lindenberge, the triplets, Dorie Miller, Dan Miller and Jim Miller, Peter McNab, Bob Povaschuk, Rick Smith, Aileen Tayler and Boris Wozimirsky. As members of the Harry Ainlay graduating class of 2001, you have earned the right to call Harry Ainlay "your school."

In closing, I would like to remind you of Mark Twain's admonition - "Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

On behalf of the Edmonton Public School Board of Trustees, I wish the class of 2001 - Good Luck! Bonne Chance! God Speed!

Motivational Blessing

The motivational blessing is meant to express gratitude on behalf of the graduating class. It is easy to think of all the years ahead, and feel overwhelmed. I certainly do. I have just to think about the fact that our graduating class is on the brink of adulthood, and we will soon be joining our elders as functioning members of society. Somewhere along the way, we will have to learn to be self-sufficient adults.

Until then, however, there are always those who will help us along the way. In fact, they have been helping us for years; and we owe them a lot. Ever since the day we were born, our parents have nurtured us - preparing us for this symbolic culmination of all their hard work, our coming of age, a time when we no longer need them. The thing is, we still need them, and always will. Our families have helped us along the way, shaped us into the people we have become and are becoming. Family stands by you when no one else does.

And when I say family, I don't necessarily mean blood relations. Going to classes with the same people everyday inevitably leads to the formation of friendships with peers who become important to us. Some of us have known each other all through high school, all through junior high, or even since elementary. These friendships are often just as important as family. Friends support us when we need encouragement, and make us feel loved.

There is no way I can end without also saluting teachers. These men and women have often shown us their caring and dedication. All our teachers, from kindergarten to grade twelve, have worked to get us to this very moment.

The help and support, and encouragement, and wisdom bestowed on us by all these people in our lives, are truly treasured gifts, which will carry us deftly into the future. On behalf of the graduating class of 2001, I want to give heartfelt thanks to all family members, friends, and teachers, for their constancy and caring. We will never forget you. Thank you.

Valedictory Address

shine, others to fly, and yet others to dance. Over the past three years, we have each discovered some of our special abilities, and have learned to work hard in order to achieve the goals we set. Whether we dedicate ourselves to academics, athletics, arts, music, or service, we all have one thing in common: we have all excelled and deserve to be proud of our successes.

It is important to recognize the people who have helped us by making significant, positive impacts on our lives: our teachers, who, in their own way have left indelible fingerprints on us; friends, who see us through thick and thin; and our families, who are the guides, philosophers, and beacons of love in our lives. We have learned from all these people what we are capable of, and over the past three years, we have all proved it.

Albert Einstein once said, "I never think of the future. It comes soon enough." And so it has arrived. This is the generation of high speed communication, of reality television, and great medical advances, such as the remarkable Edmonton Protocol now used as a cure for diabetes. We are no longer living in the past, as children who look up at the stars and wonder how far away they are. Now we must look at the stars and strive to grasp them in our hands, for each one represents a glorious challenge.

The milestone we have all reached tonight is just a part of something grander which we all have yet to design. So let us look up: in front of each of us is a ladder that we have been building over the years, one that we will continue to build; this ladder will take us to the stars. What I speak of is ambition: deep within us, we have always strived for something, something that will expose our inner glow, that will grant us success and happiness. Tonight is the celebration of ambition, of the distance it has carried us and the heights to which it will soon take us. The future brings new experiences, new choices, new challenges and opportunities. We must remember that the future is ours to have, that the path to fulfillment is, ultimately, to be wise and spontaneous, to revel in the taste of each moment, and to encourage others just as we would like to be encouraged. As J.M. Barrie once put it, "The reasons why birds can fly and we can't is simply that they have perfect faith."

Good evening fellow graduands, teachers, parents, honoured guests.

We are here tonight to celebrate the past three years we have spent at Harry Ainlay; to celebrate our achievements, to remember the friendships we have developed, and to examine how we have all matured. Though we may not yet realize it, each one of us has undergone a special transformation since we first arrived at Harry Ainlay; some of us have learned to for to have faith is to have wings."

This new chapter in our lives is where we will truly hear the spirited roar of waves around us, where we will begin to live our lives and futures, our eyes fixed on the summit of Everest. The past three years have prepared us for all of this: we have learned about knowledge, about success and goal setting, about dreams and hard work, and about ourselves and those around us. For the past three years, we have been absorbing; now is the moment for us to radiate.

I would like to end with a quotation by G.L. Banks which I hope reflects a special part of each of us: "I live for those who love me, for those who know me true; for the heaven that smiles above me, and awaits my spirit too; for the cause that lacks assistance, for the wrongs that need resistance; for the future in the distance, and the good that I can do." To the graduating class of 2001: I wish us all the utmost success in our future endeavours, for we are the leaders of the new millennium; let us remember each other and the memories we shared, and let us leave no dreams untouched, for the stars have never before been bigger or more brilliant.

HEALTHY - NOT SELF DESTRUCTIVE

- SELF EXPLANATORY BUT SOMETHING THAT NEEDS TO BE SAID. DON'T BE HARD ON YOURSELF, THINK POSITIVE. MEN ARE OFTEN RAISED THAT IT'S "MANLY" TO BE HARD DRINKING, TOUGH - DRIVE FAST LIVE HARD DIE YOUNG - LEAVE A GOOD LOOKING CORPSE - BUT THAT'S JUST STUPID. BETTER TO TREAT YOURSELF RIGHT AND SEE HOW LONG YOU CAN LIVE.

4. (LYNDA) - THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS LUCK - LUCK IS "PREPARATION MEETING OPPORTUNITY"

- MAKE YOUR OWN LUCK - DON'T SIT BACK AND RESENT OTHERS FOR GETTING THE GREAT JOB - GIRLFRIEND - TRIP WHATEVER

- CONSIDER WHAT THEY HAVE DONE TO HAVE OPPORTUNITIES COME THEIR WAY - AND REALIZE THAT BEING "LUCKY" REQUIRES HARD WORK AND PLANNING

- IF YOU SOW THE SEEDS - LAY THE GROUNDWORK - THE "LUCK" WILL COME YOUR WAY EVENTUALLY

5. (GORD) - FIGHT THE BIG FIGHTS - DON'T SWEAT THE SMALL STUFF

- QUICKEST WAY TO DRIVE YOURSELF CRAZY AND GET AN ULCER IS TO WORRY ABOUT EVERYTHING..WHAT DO PEOPLE THINK OF ME? AM I WEARING THE RIGHT CLOTHES? AM I SAYING THE RIGHT THINGS? WILL PEOPLE THINK I'M STUPID? INSECURITY BREEDS DISCONTENT, SCREW IT - WHAT MAKES YOU HAPPY? WORRY MORE ABOUT "DID I DO A GOOD JOB". AM I BEING HONEST WITH MYSELF AND OTHERS?

6. (LYNDA) - LIFE'S NO FUN WITHOUT TAKING RISKS

- WE'RE NOT TALKING ABOUT SKYDIVING - OR BAD INVESTMENTS

- WE'RE TALKING ABOUT TAKING ON CHALLENGES - EVEN ONES THAT TERRIFY YOU - LIKE PUBLIC SPEAKING - OR OPENING YOUR OWN BUSINESS

- PUSH THE ENVELOPE - SEEK OUT NEW OPPORTUNITIES - GROW - LEARN - ENJOY LIFE

- DON'T ALWAYS PLAY IT SAFE

7. (GORD) - KEEP A SENSE OF HUMOR - LEARN TO LAUGH AT YOURSELF

- LAUGHTER REALLY IS THE BEST MEDICINE. FIND HUMOUR IN THE WORLD AROUND YOU.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO BE SILLY AND TAKE A CHANCE TO MAKE OTHERS LAUGH. DON'T TAKE YOURSELF TOO SERIOUSLY - WE ALL MAKE MISTAKES.

LEARNING TO LAUGH AT YOURSELF WILL HELP YOU REALIZE YOUR STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES

8. (LYNDA) - RESPECT YOUR ELDERS

- TODAY YOU THINK ANYONE OVER THE AGE OF 25 IS STUFFY - OVER THE HILL - OUT OF IDEAS - A FUDDY DUDDY

- WHEN YOU'RE 18 YOU THINK YOU HAVE ALL THE ANSWERS

- WHEN YOU'RE 25 YOU THINK YOU'RE CLOSE TO HAVING ALL THE ANSWERS

- WHEN YOU'RE 35 - YOU REALIZE YOU'LL NEVER KNOW ALL THE ANSWERS

- KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN - AND LEARN FROM THE PEOPLE WHO'VE GONE BEFORE YOU

9. (GORD) - THINK BEFORE YOU SAY SOMETHING

- TOUGH TO DO SOMETIMES.. OFTEN WE TEND TO GO WITH OUR GUT REACTION. BUT IN THE HEAT OF THE MOMENT OUR FIRST REACTION ISN'T ALWAYS CORRECT. IF SOMEONE SAYS SOMETHING THAT IS IGNORANT OR SPITEFUL - DON'T LASH OUT. MAYBE YOU HEARD WRONG OR GOT THE WRONG IMPRESSION. TAKE A STEP BACK-DEEP BREATH- AND THINK ABOUT WHAT YOU WANT TO SAY TO GET YOUR MEANING ACROSS IN THE BEST WAY

10. (LYNDA) - NURTURE YOUR FRIENDSHIPS

- AS YOU MOVE THROUGH LIFE - YOUR BEST FRIENDS WILL GROW ALONG WITH YOU - AND BE THERE FOR YOU IN TIMES OF CELEBRATION LIKE YOUR MARRIAGE OR THE BIRTH OF YOUR CHILDREN - AND THEY'LL BE THERE FOR YOU IN TIMES OF HARSHSHIP LIKE THE LOSS OF A JOB - OR THE DEATH OF SOMEONE CLOSE TO YOU - GOOD LONGSTANDING FRIENDSHIPS ARE WORTH MORE THAN JUST ABOUT ANYTHING ELSE IN THIS WORLD... MAKE SURE YOU DON'T TAKE THEM FOR GRANTED

Shamsh Moosa in geek style walking into school with birds whistling [happy face]
SM - Hi Girls!

FIRST BUZZER SOUNDS

SM - Ah that must be the warning buzzer that sounds 3 minutes prior to the final buzzer that signals the beginning of class. All students are expected to move toward their classes as soon as the warning buzzer sounds."

Jen and Carmen stare at Shamsh

SM - page 11 of our student agenda book. I did a little studying to get me in the mood for school

C - what a geek! He must be in I.B.

J - yeah! Lets go outside and have a smoke. We can tell our teachers we couldn't find our class since it is the first day of school!

SM - Toodles! Okay getting to class...

Sm- [Shamsh pulls out a huge map] okay I'm in the West Wing and to hit Biology I must head North and at the junction of the Rotunda I must head at a 69 degree angle, then head westbound 36 paces and I should have it! Piece of cake. Who said Ainlay was a big school and it was hard to get around!

CAMERA ZOOMS OUT AND IT SHOWS THE LONG HALLWAY

SM - (girly scream) oh boy! I better get a move on it!

Shamsh starts running, Friesen stops him
F - Son! You know there's no running in the Omnibus Excelsior!

Shamsh with bewildered look, Friesen points to the sign

Sm- what does omnibus excelsior mean?

F - I don't know! I don't teach IB anymore! I just walk up and down the hallways all day long catching people like you who get to class late! Now quit wasting my time and RUN along to class!

Sm - okay

Shamsh goes to Fisher's class

Shamsh opens the door, Fisher [with big smile and open arms and brownies] saying "Welcome to Harry Ainlay High School!"
Shamsh in the dark with flashlight on him "I'm so scared!"

[Fade Out]

4. Grade 11 Speech - Carmen and Jen

* Now that we had gotten over the initial fear of such a big school, we made it into grade 11.

* Just as we had gotten over the intimidation of Ainlay we were faced with a new scare: the Y2K Bug.

* However, after the turn of the century we soon realized that the only thing about this Y2K bug was that it was all a conspiracy to get us to buy mass amounts of Chef Boyardee [slide].

* Grade 11 was also the year of the spare, and for those of us who didn't have them... we made our own.

* Although, some students were more skillful at deceiving admin. than others [several slides]

* As well as spares, we also got cars. We could now migrate from the grease filled fries from the caf. [slide] to the heart stopping grease of New York fries [slide] at Southgate.

* Now not all students were interested in cars and skipping, these were the kids involved in the fine arts; drama [slide] and band [slide].

* Expressive students make healthy students and some students chose to express themselves in other ways.

* We as students, then went through the transition of abiding by the rules to bending the rules.

5. 3rd Video - "the Rules at Ainlay"

S - What do you think is going to happen with our new "no smoking on school grounds policy?"

F - I don't know but we better get someone on the inside to catch the kids smoking on school property

S - We need a dork who likes to tattle

F - I know! We'll get someone from IB! [Geeky Shamsh pops in]

Sm - Mr. Friesen I was wondering if you could punish the boys who are giving me wedges in gym class

[Friesen looks at secretary grins]

F - How would you like to go about getting even with them?

FADE OUT

[Jen and Carmen smoking outside school doors Shamsh behind them with his face up to glass grinning]

[Begin teachers raiding students for various broken rules]

[show different teachers running in slow motion Woz, Fischer, Agrell, etc.]

[5 kids are at a table getting in trouble, Shamsh is under table laughing]

[some girl is on one side of the pillar on a cell phone, teachers surround her, slide camera to show Shamsh on other side of pillar with cell phone]

[Sadiri getting in trouble for parking in handicapped spot, zoom in to show Shamsh in passenger seat grinning]

[Show Shamsh jumping up and down littering in corner before bell, when students come the kids get in trouble]

[guys in cafeteria playing cards, teacher comes over, guy lowers cards to reveal Shamsh]

F - wow! our IB program is great!

6. Grade 12 Speech - Carmen, Jen, Sadiri, and Shamsh

* You know, another program at Ainlay that is really great, is the football program, who for the first time in 3 years finally made the playoffs!

* However, if it wasn't for Centre High stealing all our veterans, we'd be a shoe-in for next year.

* On the other side of the Sports spectrum Ainlay's men and women's teams simultaneously took the provincial titles for the first time ever.

* Speaking of firsts, this was the first year for Const. Rosenau and Mr. Kuntz, who really made an improvement at our school, in one year our school went from this [slide of chips bag on ground] to this [slide of ground w/o chips]

* I don't know why we even have an in-school police officer. Most of the time he's outside at Confed anyways [slide of Rosenau teaching with chalkboard "smoking causes cancer" but with nobody around].

* More importantly, tonight for the first time in awhile our parents can finally be proud of our accomplishments.

* Our parents have been with us through a lot, from our first steps [slide]...

* to our first words [slide]...

* from our first Sports team [slide]...

* to our first 'Participation' ribbons from track & field day [slide]...

* from our first "Good Job!" on our book reports [slide]...

* to our first attendance reports [slide]...

* and now to the big payoff.

* Tonight after 12 years of hard work our parents can really be proud of us...

* For now, that is until we all get home from aftergrad!

* In conclusion, we have gathered some guests with some words of advice.

Graduation

Commencement

Ainlay students look to the stars...

On the evening of May 24, 2001, parents, students, teachers, and guests assembled at the Jubilee Auditorium to honour the graduands of 2000-2001. The beginning of the evening was started by the 'Presentation of Flags,' conducted by Cst. T. Pallas and Cst. K. Rosnau which was then followed by Sean Yam, our grad president, and his welcome speech as well as a message from the Board of Trustees on behalf of Mr. Nicholson. This evening also gave us an opportunity to say goodbye to a number of honorary graduands that will be greatly missed. Jolene Bothwell continued the evening by performing a beautiful dance routine that captured the awe of everyone in attendance with Crystal

Lee as the accompanist on the piano. Later, Jason Wong and Natalie Chui continued the excellent performing with their own piano duet. Guest speakers Ms. Lynda Steele and Mr. Gord Steinke from Global Television outlined ten discoveries that would help graduands achieve happiness and success in life. Class historians Jennifer Harris, Shamsh Moosa, Carmen Sadoway and Sadiri Tira then entertained the audience with the hilarious 'Wazzup' and had everyone laughing hysterically. They ended with a very moving 'Forever friends, forever united, forever growing, forever young' to encourage our Titans. The evening was a success and will be forever remembered by all 2001 Titans.

Banquet

Ainlay students shine once again...

No grad would be complete without an elegant grad banquet following commencement. On the evening of the 26th of May, 2001, parents, guests, students, and teachers gathered at the Shaw Conference Centre to continue the celebration of Graduation 2001. The evening started off with Kim Nakatsui and her toast to those who most deserve our thanks, our parents. Mr. Nakatsui then made an excellent reply that outlined the special relationships that parents and children develop over time. Anne Aspler then continued the evening with a toast to the staff, another group of individuals worthy of our praise. It is our teachers that have taught us so many things that we must always remember and use to benefit ourselves through life. Mr. Kunst made the reply and helped to motivate the students through his words of wisdom and the lyrics of "I Hope You Dance." Continuing on with the evening, Ryan Williams asked for a blessing on the food and everyone took part in a delicious dinner of chicken and vegetables. An exquisite dessert followed, which was graced with an excellent performance by Amanda Wong and Laura Craig. Next, the graduating class' gift of beautification and a donation to the Children's Miracle Network was presented to the school. Following this, to recognize the wonderful efforts of the Graduation Committee advisors, gifts were presented to Ms. Baker and Ms. Yusypchuk. Graduation President Sean Yam concluded the wonderful evening by inviting everyone to take part in the dance held afterwards. Overall, the evening was one of class and will most definitely be held in the memories of the 2001 Titans for years to come.

the Millennial Year

Closing Thoughts

by Mr. Povaschuk

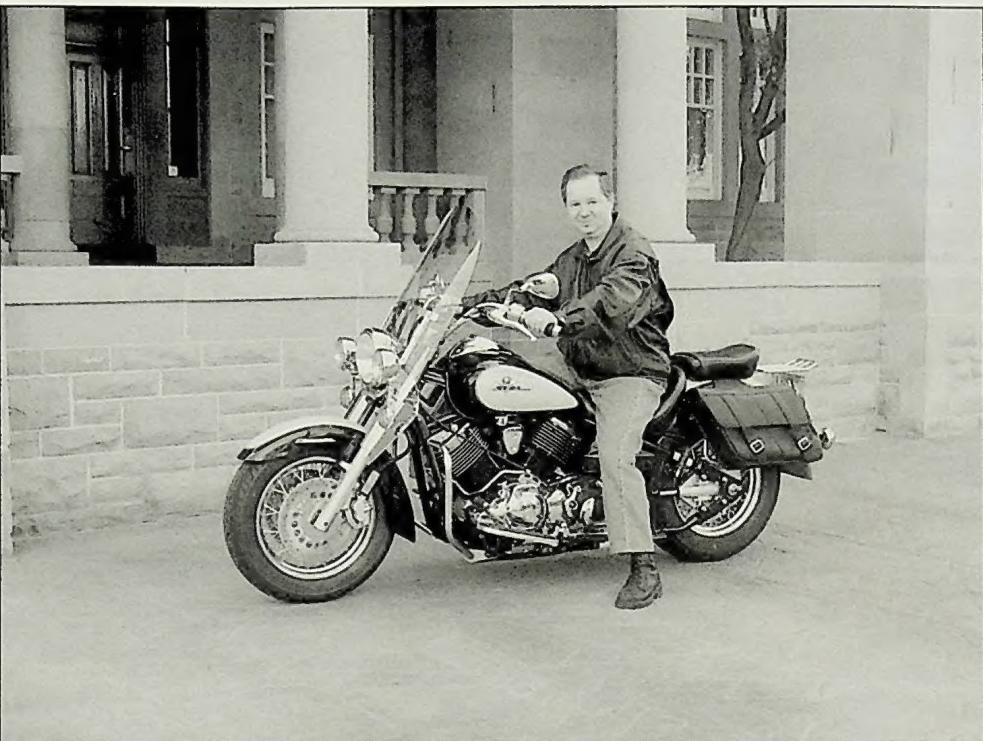

Once again Harry Ainlay students have excelled in producing a yearbook that rivals and exceeds the journalistic and artistic standards previously attained. In the last two years the Titan Tradition has been entered into the National Scholastic Review competition and has won second place. This is the result of outstanding layout, photography and journalism.

The preceding pages were completed under the direction of Jason Wong and Ryan Williams who acted as editors. Their dedication and countless hours of effort resulted in a strong team of dedicated students who developed skills and proficiency in all aspects of production. They collectively worked to take pictures, do darkroom work, scan images and complete layouts using desktop publishing and photo-editing software which included Pagemaker 6.5 and Photoshop 5.5.

For the first year, the book was almost entirely completed with the use of digital photographs. Over 100 rolls of color and black and white film were exposed to capture the daily events of the school. From these, the best images were identified and then scanned on a Polaroid 35mm Sprint Scan Plus to produce digital tiff files. These files were then improved through the use of Photoshop 5.5 and saved into folders for each page.

In May, the school acquired an Olympus E-10 digital camera. The camera featured single-lens-reflex viewing, adjustable apertures and shutter speeds and had the capability of auto or manual focusing. The speed and quality of the images captured were exceptional. Images of soccer, awards, and commencement reflect this technology.

Now, for mention of some of the outstanding personal contributions of individuals. Austin Cheng and Felicia Tam must also be thanked for their constant support and dedication to completing the yearbook. Austin completed the entire drama section while Felicia finished the entire grad mug section. Their work was of an excellent quality. They never failed to help out when a job needed to be done and for that, they are very much appreciated. In addition, a big thank you goes out to Sarah Routledge who has worked tirelessly on editing and perfecting much of the text in this yearbook. Some new students on our production team who deserve much appreciation as well were Christine Neale, Joanna Clark, Taylor Harrison, Beverly Smeall, and Janice Kong were some new students on our production team who made large contributions on a regular basis. Melissa Fok, Megan Broomhall, Betsy Li, Stephanie Shumyla, and Jeff Leung also made fantastic and consistent contributions. Deniz Temelli and Stephanie Chan also showed great leadership and plan to assume the editorial responsibilities for the 2001-2002 yearbook. They will be attending a Herff Jones workshop at the University of British Columbia on August 15, 16 and 17 to hone their skills and begin the daunting task of establishing an overall organization and book theme. We wish them all the best.

Many teachers also must be mentioned. Mrs. Deptuck proofed many of the grad quotes which were then given to Ms. Jewell's word processing classes for typing. Mr. Agrell-Smith again provided all the photographs and sketches for the layout of the drama pages. Ms. Baker and Ms. Yusypchuk were a constant source of team photographs and write-ups for clubs and athletics. Ms. Baker's support at the time of graduation, commencement and awards is also much appreciated. Staff sponsors of clubs and athletics also provided a big help by providing stories which were often e-mailed to us and then dropped directly into layouts.

The picture of me on a bike seems fitting since this is the last book I will have the privilege of working on as I move on to retirement. The theme of our commencement was "Reaching for the Stars" and so I will reach out in the years to come on my Yamaha V-Star motorcycle. I will reflect back on the many great stars I had in producing the Titan Tradition yearbook.

Retiring Staff

2001/2002 will be a year of transition for Harry Ainlay as many staff are retiring and moving on to a new challenging phase of their lives. We thank them for their compassion to teaching and wish them the very best with the years that lie ahead.
